

Krishnamachari Sampath

3 August 1927 – 25 July 2017

Krishnamachari Sampath was a wonderful human being, a loving father and a doting grandfather and a devoted husband who cared for his wife during a long illness.

We will always remember him for his unconditional love and complete selflessness.

He had a very giving nature all his life and even in death he bequeathed his body for medical research.

Long live K Sampath.
